Kabbalah

About our site

Introduction

It was somewhere in August of the year 2001 that I received a phone call from our Oleg (I didn't know him at that moment yet). He was very happy that there was someone else in this country who was studying Kabbalah. At that time there were obviously no Kabbalah websites, so one had to search sources in foreign languages.

Oleg had a college who found it not comfortable to read only English translations of Kabbalistic texts, since there were none of these in the Dutch language.

From that day on, a very deep desire started to grow in me to make a Dutch Kabbalah website

I went to libraries...and to my surprise I discovered there was even not one text in Dutch.

There was no Kabbalistic terminology to find in Dutch at all. Step by step I started to develop a sort of 'kabbalah language', so at the third of February 2002 the site was born.

Five years later

Now we are 5 years later and I am very grateful to everyone who had and still does working at the website. It has become more profound; still we are working to optimize the inner structure etc. I don't mention the names of every volunteer, for by that they would not be pleased.

Their 'reward' they expect not from someone of flesh and blood.

For all of you,
Blessings and joyfulness,

Rabbi Michael Portnaar
